NORTHERN ILLINOIS "PASTURE TO PROFIT" SALE

A group of females in front of one of the barns at Kickapoo Farms, Kenosha, Wis., consignors of three females to this sale.

This is an Unusual Sale with Unusual Buying Opportunities

I have found, in working as a fieldman, that leading herds, such as those consigning to this sale, are among those most interested in seeing that an ample supply of good Shorthorns are offered at auction out in the farming and cattle areas. They are quick to recognize the importance of this phase of breed expansion.

We were most pleased when we learned that this great group of breeders were willing to underwrite a good spring sale in Western Illinois with enough cattle to take the place of the "Sale of Satisfied Buyers." Princeton was selected because of its fine facilities, its proximity to the "Sale of Satisfied Buyers" area, and its convenience to the majority of the consignors.

Anyone studying this catalog will recognize quickly the excellent buying opportunities. The cattle will be in just healthy breeding condition. There are bulls that can provide the answer to your herd bull problem. Of the 42 females very few are open heifers. There are many cows with calves or soon to calve to great sires. Turn them out on grass and bring them in this fall with coupons — the kind of calves whose quality and pedigrees will be the kind that sell quickly and at premium prices for you.

These cattle were selected by an inspection committee.

BEAUTY L -- A good cow, dam of Edellyn Beauty 34th. Top priced female at Illinois State Sale, 1953. Sold for $1,050. In calf since December 1st, 1955 to Saltoun Royal Crest by Calrossie Good News.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS "PASTURE TO PROFIT" SALE

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1956 - PRINCETON, ILLINOIS

Scene at Melbourne Farms, owned by John Alexander & Sons, consignors of two lots to this sale.

A group of the beautiful females at Edellyn Farms, owned by Thomas E. Wilson, consignors of three lots.

The kind you've always wanted . . . at prices you can afford to pay!

REAL HERD IMPROVEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The consignors to this sale — including many of the most outstanding herds of the nation — had made regular consignments to the "Sale of Satisfied Buyers," as an important part of their selling program. Since this long established sale, usually held twice in the spring, originally at Abingdon and later at Knoxville, has been suspended, it left a gap in breed expansion in the state.

In cooperation with the management, this group of leading breeders met, dug deep into their female herds, and pledged enough cattle to assure a sale to fill this gap left in the state's yearly building program. Because the sale was organized on very short notice, cattle have been picked right out of the breeding herds, and will be offered in that condition. Many lots offered, the owners had not intended to sell at all.

Thus here you will find buying opportunities seldom available in a district sale ... a chance to buy the outstanding bloodlines from the state's leading breeders, at district auction prices, because cattle are offered in just good breeding flesh without advance fitting.

Three females from the Metz Farm herd, consignors of five females.

A scene of top production in the herd at Ringwell Farms, consignors of four lots.
